The Materials

The final product, provided for distribution on CD-Rom, consists of:

- a facilitator and learner guide for 12 modules,
- a support text for workplace learning.
- Overhead transparencies using Microsoft PowerPoint for each module to support facilitators who choose face-to-face delivery.

Each document has been provided in

- Acrobat (pdf) format to ensure stability
- A Microsoft Word version to enable organisations to amend, add and customise for local needs

The primary user would be a facilitator/trainer/training organisation that would distribute the learning materials to the learners. They can be used in traditional face to face or through a supported distance mode.

Materials have been prepared to allow direct colour laser printing or photocopying depending on the size and resources of the organisation. It is not envisaged that learners would be asked to print materials.

Assessment

Where assessment of competence is implemented training organisations are reminded of the basis principles upon which assessment should be based:

Assessment is an integral part of learning. Participants, through assessment, learn what constitutes effective practice.

Assessment must be reliable, flexible, fair and valid.

- To be reliable, the assessment methods and procedures must ensure that the units of competence are applied consistently.
- To be flexible, assessment should be able to take place on-the-job, off-the-job or in a combination of both. They should be suitable for a variety of learning pathways including work-based learning and classroom based learning.
- To be fair, the assessment must not disadvantage particular learners
- To be valid, the assessment has to assess what it claims to assess.
